I am in full support of XM satellite radio and the weather reports it furnishes. The trucking industry, and every other traveller, commercial or tourist can be forewarned INSTANTLY by these broadcasts, the listener does not have to wait for the station to report on the half hour and one does not have to tune to find the station for the area in question. This is a great safety feature as the driver does not have to take eyes off the road to tune in the necessary station. To suppress a good innovation like satellite radio is negative and irresponsible governing, the public is harmed if you allow this valuable reporting to be strangled by the greed and incompetence of the antenna broadcasters. Sincerely, John C. Peterson, W2FMX.
